

Professor Douglas J. Skinner
University of Chicago

Professor Douglas Skinner is the John P. and Lillian A. Gould Professor of Accounting at the Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago. Prior to his appointment at Chicago, he was KPMG Professor of Accounting at the Ross School of Business, University of Michigan, where he had been on the faculty since 1989. He holds a B.Ec. (First Class Honours) from Macquarie University and M.S. and Ph.D. from the University of Rochester. It was at Macquarie that Professor Skinner first read Ball and Brown, which sparked his interest in empirical accounting research.

Professor Skinner's research addresses topics in financial reporting and corporate finance, especially those related to the capital markets implications of financial reporting. It is published in prominent accounting and finance journals, including The Accounting Review, the Journal of Accounting and Economics, the Journal of Accounting Research, the Journal of Finance, and the Journal of Financial Economics. He is currently an Editor of the Journal of Accounting Research and was previously an Editor of the Journal of Accounting and Economics and the Review of Accounting Studies.
