The 13th Australian Colloquium of Superannuation Researchers
Globalisation of Pension Fund Investments
4-5th July, 2005
The 13th Australian Colloquium of Superannuation Researchers
Globalisation of Pension Fund Investments 4-5th July 2005

The aim of the Australian Colloquium of superannuation researchers is to provide a forum for superannuation and retirement income experts from academia, the public sector and the superannuation and wealth management industry to meet, discuss and present their research.

The theme for the 13th Colloquium is Globalisation of Pension Fund Investments. Retirement savings are becoming a major component of the capital markets around the world. The investment of these savings will have significant affects on the retirement standards of the community. As the world reduces barriers to trade and investment, and the economies become increasingly inter twined, the issue arises as to what is an appropriate investment strategy for retirement savings, and in particular how much should be invested domestically, or outside the economic zone of the recipients, or does this question really matter at all? The 13th Colloquium will consider this issue from several different perspectives.

Program
The first day of the colloquium (Monday 4th July) comprises one day of invited papers from distinguished international and domestic speakers on the conference theme. The second day (Tuesday 5th July) is mainly for contributed papers.

A detailed program will be available on the colloquium website www.cps.unsw.edu.au closer to the colloquium dates.
