The 12th Australian Colloquium of Superannuation Researchers 12–13th July 2004

Welcome to the 12th Australian Colloquium of Superannuation Researchers. This annual forum hosted by the Centre for Pensions and Superannuation (CPS) invites superannuation and retirement income experts from academia, the public sector, and the superannuation and wealth management industries, to meet, discuss and share their research.

July 2004 Theme:
“Shortchanged? Pension Fund Governance and Retirement Provision”

Governance in the corporate sector has been a hot issue over the last decade which affects all Australians. Only recently has governance of pension funds received in-depth attention from academics, policymakers, and industry.

The value of assets now under the control of pension funds, and the increased reliance on private pension funding, are issues that urgently need to be addressed. In Australia, as in many other countries, they are a social priority as much as an economic or financial one.

The quality of governance is central to the rate or return on funds, as well as their security. Issues relating to administration charges and costs, the role of trustees, public and private guarantees, and regulatory practice to minimise risk of loss are among the topics to be discussed at the Colloquium.

Program

Monday 12th July
The first day of the Colloquium will be devoted to invited papers from distinguished Australian and international speakers on this new and important topic: Pension Fund Governance and Retirement Provision.

Tuesday 13th July
The second day of the Colloquium will be dedicated to contributed papers from superannuation and retirement income researchers in academia, the public sector and the superannuation and wealth management industries.

A detailed program will be available at www.cps.unsw.edu.au/colloquium, closer to the colloquium dates.

Invited Speakers
Anthony Asher – Australian Regulatory Prudential Authority
Hazel Bateman and Robert Hill – UNSW
Gordon Clark – Oxford University
Richard Hinz and Anca Mataoanu – World Bank
Olivia Mitchell and Stella Yang – Wharton Business School
David McCarthy and Anthony Neuberger – Imperial College and London Business School
Michael Orszag and John Piggott – Watson Wyatt and UNSW
Rosemary Vilgan – former director, The Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia Ltd and Executive Director of Qsuper

Contributed Papers – Call for Papers
Papers from superannuation and retirement income researchers in academia, the public sector and the superannuation and wealth management industry will be welcomed. Papers should not exceed 30 pages (A4, double-spaced) and must be received by the conference organisers by Friday 11 June 2004. If you would like to discuss a possible presentation, please contact Clea Bye (email cps@unsw.edu.au, or phone 02 9385 3335)
