Professor Peter Fairbrother
Cardiff University, Adjunct

Research Interests: union democracy, organisation and renewal; state restructuring; manufacturing change and the implications for labour.

Publications in 2006:

Publications in 2005:

'The state we are in (and against)', in P. Fairbrother and A. Rainnie (eds) Globalisation, State and Capital, Routledge, London: 29-52 (with A. Rainnie).

‘Two paths – one road? Creating managerial states in the United Kingdom and Australia’, 19th Conference of the Association of Industrial Relations Academics of Australia and New Zealand, University of Sydney, Australia, 9-11 February (with J. O’Brien).

‘We’re here to make money. We’re here to do business: The privatised state and questions for trade unions’, 19th Conference of the Association of Industrial Relations Academics of Australia and New Zealand, University of Sydney, Australia, 9-11 February (with R. Barton).

Public services outsourcing: implications for union organization and democracy, Twentieth Annual Employment Research Unit Conference, Cardiff Business School, 6–7 September (with G. Williams).

Formalising relations between states and unions: The case of public transport in two Australian states, The Annual Australian Conference of the Australian Sociological Association (TASA), University of Tasmania Sandy Campus, 5–8 December (with R. Barton).